While many people associate Labor Day with the end of summer, we do not. There may not be as many people roaming around but there's plenty of activity to keep us busy as well as trying to catch up with the paperwork affiliated with the past few weeks activities. My being not around as much as usual has lead to some training not getting done in a timely fashion but we will be correcting that within these next couple months.

Officers are set for training this month as time has allowed for the possibility of training. Three primary officers will be attending Emergency Vehicle Operations Course in September at WITC in Ashland. This is mandatory training set forth by training and standards. The officers will also be doing other training this month in firearms and Taser.

Although I begin physical therapy on mainland this month, I plan to spend more time working with Bill on some projects that need attention. With endless interruptions during the summer, its very difficult to accomplish goals I'd set with regards to passing on responsibilities but these next few months should allow us more time together. The secondary officers from mainland have been filling in when needed and proved to be a great asset, it is money well spent. The time table for my departure should still be attainable if all goes as planned. I discuss this with Pete and keep him informed as where we stand.

We successfully completed the 2013 national immobilization campaign best known as "Drive Sober Or Get Pulled Over". This project began on August 16th and ran through September 2nd. Once the paperwork has been submitted to the Bureau of Traffic Safety (BOTS) we will become eligible for a equipment grant. The other national campaign we participate in is "Click It Or Ticket" was completed in June but the grant process has been delayed at the federal level so we are still waiting on whether or not we made the list.

Sincerely,

Michael Anderson
